BASIC CERTIFICATE COURSE IN STRESS MANAGEMENT

Introduction

Stress is a fact of life, wherever we are and whatever we are doing. We cannot avoid stress, but we can learn to manage it, so it doesn't manage us.

Changes in our lives such as going to college, getting married, changing jobs, or illness-are frequent sources of stress. Keep in mind that changes that cause stress can also benefit you. Moving away from home to attend college, for example, creates personal-development opportunities new challenges, friends, and living arrangements. That is why it's important to know yourself and carefully consider the causes of stress. Learning to do this takes time, and although you cannot avoid stress, the good news is that you can minimize the harmful effects of stress, such as depression or hypertension. The key is to develop an awareness of how you interpret, and react to, circumstances. This awareness will help you develop coping techniques for managing stress.

Stress is the body's response to changes in the life. Because life involves constant change-ranging from every day, routine changes like commuting from home to work to adapting to major life changes like marriage, divorce, or death of a loved one there is no avoiding stress. Stress can come from many sources, which are known as stressors. Some stress relief techniques can work in just a few minutes to calm the body's stress response. These techniques offer a "quick fix" that helps you feel calmer now, and this can help in several ways. Provision of affordable quality mental health care to all has emerged as a major concern for health care system in India. Nurses play an important role in the hospital as well as community in managing stress of patients, family and colleagues. They need to be prepared for managing stress in both hospitals and community by the way of undergoing specialized course in Stress Management.

Stress management is a major challenge nowadays and in order to overcome this challenge student nurses are trained in Stress Management. It is essential to meet such needs effectively.

Nowadays every institution has got stress management policy The purpose of this policy is to define work related stress and identify a corporate approach to the management of stress within the workplace. The policy provides a framework to assist managers and employees to deal with the issues that arise from work related stress and to help employees deal with it and maintain their attendance.

The various stress management tools outlined are- yoga, meditation, controlled breathing, visualization, guided imagery - are used by millions throughout the world as they have been for thousands of years. Some have their origins in the Middle East or Asia, and some are associated with various religions, even though they are now commonly practiced by people of all faiths.

Basic Certification Course in Stress Management is designed to develop an ability in student nurses to manage stress in patients, family and an own. The outcome of the Programme will be having more Nursing students to opt and prepare for providing stress management therapies at institutional and community levels.

VISION

The vision of the course is to prepare excellent health care providers and leaders who can manage stress of the patients as well as self.

MISSION

- Learn the significant differences that helping professionals experience as part of their everyday exposure to highly stressful and often traumatic incidents and how their approach to stress reduction requires a unique and tailored approach.
- Learn the basic physiological responses of the human body to various environmental and emotional stresses. Participants will have the ability to differentiate between normal, healthy stress, environmental stressors and emotional stressors both endogenous and reactive. Understand the autonomic responses to various stressors and cognitive reactions that reinforce the occurrence of physical reaction without the benefit of thought processing.
- Learn and practice various, effective, traditional breathing and progressive relaxation methods from the 3 minutes to 20-minute models

Course Syllabus

INTRODUCTION:

Many of us believe that as we age, it is inevitable that our body will not work as well as it did ten or twenty years ago. There is some truth in this. But most experts agree that you can do something to counter the usual effects of ageing, and that something is yoga.

Yoga is increasingly gaining mainstream international acceptance as the exercise of first choice to decelerate the ageing process, both physical and psychological. It has been demonstrated by scientific research that yoga can help to ward off mid-life health problems, including arthritis, osteoporosis and low back pain.

The yoga asanas also keep the jelly donut-like discs of the spine supple and healthy. Yoga will help you become a bit stronger and more flexible, have more energy, lose weight, reduce stress, anxiety and high blood pressure, improve concentration and memory, and feel more optimistic.

VISION

The vision of the course is to prepare excellent health care providers who can have adequate knowledge regarding yoga and practice in day today life.

MISSION

- The mission of basics of yoga and techniques for safe practice helps student to lead a healthy body mind and spirit .
- To ensure that each patient will be educated yoga techniques for speedy recovery .
- To ensure good body mechanics while patient care.

COURSE CONTENT

Introduction

A person who is offered a quality education is able to serve the region, the state and the nation through resourceful educational programmes. A quality based education consequently helps in upgrading the individual's growth which in turn endorses the growth of the nation. It offers Quality Education to create a personal paradigm, devoted to master the life skills required for success.

All human beings, need to understand harmony in themselves, harmony with others and harmony with rest of the nature. There is an interconnectedness, self regulation and harmony at all levels of existence and this needs to be identified by each individual. Human beings governed mainly by their pre- conditionings and sensory experiences and are generally very hesitant to analyze them. However, once a break through is achieved, the subsequent journey is very smooth and pleasant.

Values are our guidelines for our success - our paradigm about what is acceptable. Human behavior depends on the characters defining the identity, choosing the values and establishing the beliefs. Ethics is an activity which concerns with the investigation of moral values in moral issues.

“Human value and professional ethics” enlighten the students with the fact that right understanding about oneself and rest of the existence and living in accordance with this understanding is essential for sustained human happiness and propriety.

Introduction

A person who is offered a quality education is able to serve the region, the state and the nation through resourceful educational programmes. A quality based education consequently helps in upgrading the individual's growth which in turn endorses the growth of the nation. It offers Quality Education to create a personal paradigm, devoted to master the life skills required for success.

All human beings, need to understand harmony in themselves, harmony with others and harmony with rest of the nature. There is an interconnectedness, self regulation and harmony at all levels of existence and this needs to be identified by each individual. Human beings governed mainly by their pre- conditionings and sensory experiences and are generally very hesitant to analyze them. However, once a break through is achieved, the subsequent journey is very smooth and pleasant.

Values are our guidelines for our success - our paradigm about what is acceptable. Human behavior depends on the characters defining the identity, choosing the values and establishing the beliefs. Ethics is an activity which concerns with the investigation of moral values in moral issues.

INTRODUCTION

Communication refers to the exchange of thoughts and ideas with the intention of conveying information. Communication is a two way sheet that includes vocalization as well as gesticulation. The purpose of communication convey one's beliefs, ideas, thoughts or needs with clarity so as to reach a consensus or a mutually acceptable solution. Good communication skills are a prerequisite for professionals in all walks of life. Using sign language and the sense of touch to express and feel are also important modes of communication. Ultimately, communication should be effective. As long as there is clarity in communication, the goal of communication will be accomplished, communication skills are required for maintaining relationships also. When with friends and relatives, good communication skills ser needed to weld contain miss communication and fights

Leadership is one of these characteristics of a successful man or woman that is never inherited but trained and imbibed it. The term leadership Its self can't be defined and it depends on person to person's perception of life. A leader is simply not someone who will please everyone on his way. A leader is someone who has the courage and intent of mind to take tough decisions even if it brings harm to his followers but is in the direction of fulfilling the goals. leadership is a special quality that can't be found in every person. The leadership skills make a person special than others. To be a good leader a person needs to have some leadership qualities. It is a quality that is got by birth
