CRITERIA FOR IDENTIFICATION

OF ADVANCED LEARNERS AND SLOW LEARNERS

Nehru College of Nursing (NCN) has established itself as a premiere institution by providing quality teaching-learning to students. The college offers learner centric teaching-learning, which comprises a good number of co-curricular and extra-curricular activities for learners from diverse background for their holistic development. The college recognizes that the learning interest and pace of every pupil is different. The college consider that some learners are not so-gifted (slow learners) and whereas some are gifted learners (advanced learners). In such a situation, it is crucial to recognize the learning levels of learners and plan accordingly to deliver learner centric teaching-learning methodologies.

The students are categorized as slow learners and advanced learners based on their academic performance with the following motives.

- To counsel and motivate slow learners to improve their academic performance and advanced learners to improve their overall competency.
- To enhance the learning skills specific to the subjects.
- To remove the attitude of resistance to study and exam fear.
- To advise students to present answers for the maximum possible questions in university examinations.
- To create awareness on question paper pattern and evaluation schemes adopted by the affiliated University (KUHS)

Advanced Learners

The students are identified as advanced learners based on qualifying (PASS) in all the subjects in the University examinations conducted by KUHS.

Advanced learners are motivated, guided and trained to develop their skills and competency to meet the demands of the health care sectors across the globe. The competency skills such as critical thinking, creativity and contextualization practices, recording and reporting in nursing practices, inter personal skills, therapeutic relationships are enhanced.

Slow learners

The students are also identified as slow learners based on NOT Qualifying (FAIL) in sessional examinations. Remedial classes are conducted for failures in sessional examinations during the course of study so that the students qualify in university examination.

The students are identified as slow learners based on FAIL in one or more subjects in the University examinations conducted by KUHS. Remedial classes are conducted for failures in university examination before the university supplementary examination so that the students are able to qualify in the examination conducted by KUHS.

All the students – advanced learners and slow learners participate in interactive activities like research, debates, group discussion, other co-curricular and extra-curricular to develop analytical and problem solving abilities.

Every year, meritorious students and other deserving candidates are awarded with certificates for appreciation.
