USE OF TEACHING VIDEOS IN PRESENTATIONS AND LECTURES

Teachers can benefit greatly from video lectures as much as students using them as a learning aid. Teachers can evaluate and improve their presenting abilities through the review of recorded lectures, which promotes ongoing professional growth.

On August 17, 2019, the Nehru College of Nursing hosted and carried out the E-Developmental Program. Teachers have received training on the use of instructional videos in lectures and presentations.

The number of updates, innovations, and fresh concepts in education is constantly rising. One of these advances is the use of instructional videos in the classroom. Teachers frequently utilize this tactic to demonstrate how they have incorporated technology into the classroom. Thus, every teacher now knows how to use instructional videos in lectures and presentations.
