Name of THE STUDENT : M. S. ARCHANA TP

YEAR : 1st yr Bsc Nursing

CASE - 2

The Student was found no attentive in studies and not interested in class room activities and feels to be with mother and family always. She was also repeatedly dull and absent minded. It was informed by the class Co-ordinator to the SSCP cell and SSCP cell intervened after obtaining consent from the principal. Discussed the matter with the Student she was deeply disturbed with the repeated thought of loneliness and self isolation from other students as she was always worried about her financial situation and thinks that it may interfere with her ongoing studies owing to loss of her father and she always think that mother cannot afford alone to support her studies. So she wants to discontinue the course to make her mother comfortable. Psychological Methods and tools used to analyse the case and decided to refer to professional counselling, informed principal. As per the advice from the principal, called the mother and she took the child for counselling on 5/12/2019. Psychoeducation was given by the counsellor and advice given after one week.

SSCP cell investigated the follow up, but the Student was not consulted the psychologist for follow up advice, called the Student, as per her she feels better. SSCP cell observations - she is adapting better and advised her to approach SSCP cell if any issues arises.
